

NTVS's College of Law, Nandurbar

Best Practice 1

1. Title of the Practice

A Short Term Course on Knowing the Basic Laws and Recent Advances in Humanities was organized by UGC HRDC DAVV, Indore and NTVS Law College Nandurbar in joint collaboration.

2. Objectives of the Practice

Objectives of this course:

- a) To make teaching fraternity aware about basic laws
- b) To sensitize teaching fraternity about preparation of E Content and MOOCS
- c) Capacity building for teachers in facing NAAC
- d) Giving exposure to New Education Policy

3. The Context

Ignorance of Law is no Excuse. It is presumed that everyone knows laws of its country. Teaching fraternity must be aware of the basic laws of the country. This course will make teachers aware about the rights available under RTI Act, Consumer Protection Act, Cyber Laws etc and also to learn more about recent developments in education sector including New Education Policy, NAAC, SWAYAM, MOOCS and other recent developments in ICT.

4. The Practice

Being the first STC of Nandurbar District, the only limitation faced was implementing and adapting online technology.

5. Evidence of Success

The success of the programme can be witnessed through number of participants comprising of various faculties throughout India. Also that the resource persons were also from various universities and colleges around various states of India.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

It was not an easy task to organize it online, as for college like us where we have very limited technical resources, thus this was the mere limitation we faced. Also we needed sufficient number of participants who can participate and sit along full day on online platform. Also it was necessary to bring in resource persons from various parts of the country.

7. Notes (Optional)

The institutes can collaborate with UGC HRDC's to organize various programmes like STC, RC, FDP, FIP, Seminars etc so that faculties can get an opportunity to attend these courses at their doorstep.

Any other information regarding Institutional Values and Best Practices which the university would like to include.

Best Practice 2

1. Title of the Practice

Online Law Lecture Series for Students.

1. Objectives of the Practice

- a) To bring around expert faculties from around different corners of India
- b) To provide students of the college insight of various law subjects
- c) To bring college onto the stage at National stage.

3. The Context

Law students must be aware of the basic laws of the country. This online lecture series will make students aware about the rights available under RTI Act, Consumer Protection Act, Cyber Laws etc and also to learn more about recent developments in education sector including New Education Policy, NAAC, SWAYAM, MOOCS and other recent developments in ICT.

4. The Practice

Being the online lecture series, the only limitation faced was implementing and adapting online technology.

5. Evidence of Success

The success of the programme can be witnessed through number of participants comprising of various students & faculties throughout India. Also that the resource persons were also from various universities and colleges around various states of India.

A Short Term Course on Knowing the Basic Laws and Recent Advances in Humanities
04-01-21 to 09-01-21
(Online Mode)

---

Introduction :

A Short Term Course on Knowing the Basic Laws and Recent Advances in Humanities was organized by UGC HRDC DAVV, Indore and NTVS Law College Nandurbar in joint collaboration in online mode using Zoom platform. The Short Term Course had around 80 teacher educators as participants from different colleges and universities of India. It was a pan India group having representation from almost all the states of the country.

Inauguration Ceremony:

On the first day of the short term course, the very first session was the inaugural session. Dr N D Chaudhari, Principal, NTVS Law College, Nandurbar and Dr S S Hasani, IQAC Coordinator of NTVS Law College Nandurbar welcomed the chief guest and the participants. He also requested the participants to maintain general decorum in the course as it was in online mode. The chief guest for the inaugural session was Prof. Dr B Y Reddy, Associate Dean, Faculty of Humanities, KBCNM University, Jalgaon. In the inaugural address, Prof. Dr B Y Reddy, discussed, the course would be a unique kind of learning as each and every faculty may be of any stream must know the basic and essential laws of our country. Similarly, inclusion of topics like Cyber Laws, NEP and basic computer application knowledge will enhance the domain of thought process of every faculty member devoted to learn and improve. Prof. Namrata Sharma, Director, UGC, HRDC, DAVV, Indore familiarized the course participants with the objectives and expected outcomes of the short term course, along with glimpses of upcoming activities to be organized during the course and also proposed the vote of thanks at the end.

Date : 4/01/2021

Time : 10:00 AM to 1 PM

Session : I & II

Resource Person : Prof. Subash Rathor , School of Law, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad

Topic: IPR: National and International Perspectives

He addressed the participants and deliberated upon that Intellectual property (IP) is a category of property that includes intangible creations of the human intellect. There are many types of intellectual property, and some countries recognize more than others. The most well-known types are copyrights, patents, trademarks, and trade secrets. The modern concept of intellectual property developed in England in the 17th and 18th centuries. The term "intellectual property" began to be used in the 19th century, though it was not until the late 20th century that intellectual property became commonplace in the majority of the world's legal systems. At the end of the session, vote of thanks was proposed by Dr Ankita Jain.

Date : 4/01/2021

Time : 2:00 PM to 5:00 PM

Session : III & IV

Resource Person : Adv Swapnil Bangali, Director, Center for Information Communication Technology and Law, Maharashtra National Law University, Mumbai

Topic : Cyber Laws and Security

In the afternoon session of the first day of the refresher course, the resource person was Adv Swapnil Bangali, Director, Center for Information Communication Technology and Law, Maharashtra National Law University, Mumbai. Dr S S Hasani coordinated the session and introduced the resource person to the participants. He delivered his lecture on Amidst the global pandemic that people across the world are currently facing, cybersecurity and information protection have become the buzzwords. Organizations, governments, financial institutions, and others constantly face cyber threats. The means of cyber-attacks that are executed by cybercriminals are getting more sophisticated by every passing day, and the risk of a major cyber security breach is growing. It has become important for organizations to understand Cyber Laws and legal issues in cybersecurity.. At the end of the session, vote of thanks was proposed by Dr Alisha Verma.

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting interface. At the top, the Zoom logo and the title 'Day 1 STC in law ...' are visible. The main content is a PowerPoint slide titled 'Contraventions'. The slide text is as follows:

- Contraventions U/Sec. 43(a) to (j)
- Compensation is paid to the victim depending upon the amount of damage caused.

Sec. 43 -Without permission of the owner or person in-charge of computer system, network

- a) Secures access (Can be read with Criminal Trespass)
- b) Downloads, copies or extracts data (can be read with Copyright Act, 1957)

Session : IV

Resource Person :

Dr Jayasankar K I, Head, Law Department, Central University of Kerala, Thiruvalla, Kasargod, Kerala

Topic :

Law, Legal System and Indian Constitution

For the fifth session of the short term course, Dr Jayasankar K I, Head, Law Department, Central University of Kerala, Thiruvalla, Kasargod, Kerala was the resource person. The session was coordinated by Dr S S Hasani. He introduced the resource person to the participants. He deliberated upon the concept of The Constitution of India of 1950 is a written document which currently comprises over 450 Articles and 12 Schedules. It is the longest written constitution of any sovereign country in the world. The Constitution of India was drafted and adopted by a constituent assembly of elected representatives of the people and came into effect on 26 January 1950. The Constitution of India is not the creation of parliament but of the people of India and is therefore supreme. India's constitutional supremacy is evidenced in the opening sentence of the Preamble to the Constitution of India: "We, The People of India, having solemnly resolved to constitute India into a Sovereign Socialist Secular Democratic Republic". At the end of the session, vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Amit Pratap Singh.

Topic :

Consumerism : The Pursuit of Transparency

(New Consumer Protection Act 2019)

On the second day of the course, The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person Dr Mangal Singh Bisen, N C Law College, Nanded. He dealt in minute details about On July 20th, 2020, the new Consumer Protection Act, 2019 came into force in India, replacing the previous enactment of 1986. The new Act overhauls the administration and settlement of consumer disputes in India. It provides for strict penalties, including jail terms for adulteration and for misleading advertisements. More importantly, it now prescribes rules for the sale of goods through e-commerce. The consumer is now truly the king!

Here are some of the highlights:

- An aggrieved consumer can file complaints about a defect in goods or deficiency in services from where she lives, instead of the place of business or residence of the seller or service provider. The new law provides for e-filing of consumer complaint as well.

- No fees are required to be paid if the claim is within Rupees 5 lakhs (approximately 3500 USD).
- A consumer can conduct her own case via video conferencing. Engaging a lawyer is optional.
- A concept of product liability has been introduced by the new law, thereby allowing aggrieved consumers to claim significant compensation as a relief due to the negligence of the manufacturer or service provider.
- A group of aggrieved consumers can join hands and file a class action suit (like in the US) to reduce costs and improve chances of redressal or settlement.

Topic :

Role of NAAC Vis-a-Vis Quality Enhancement in HEI

Dr. M S Pandian, NAAC Assessor and Principal, Andaman Law College, Port Blair was the resource person for the session he highlighted the promotion of the idea of quality is one of the important activities within the overall mandate of the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC). As more and more Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) are coming forward for assessment and accreditation, there is a need for more trained personnel in quality assurance. In order to propagate the concept of quality assurance in higher education and prepare 'assessors' to take up the task of third party assessment and internal quality assurance, NAAC is in the process of developing a series of publications on quality in higher education. This module entitled "Quality Assurance in Higher Education: An Introduction" developed in collaboration with the Commonwealth of Learning, Vancouver, Canada is first in the series that aims at providing a basic understanding of quality in general and its application to higher education in particular. This module will clarify various terms, models and practices widely used in the context of quality assurance in higher education.

Topic :

Swayam and its Implementation

Dr Bhavesh Vanpariya, Faculty & Coordinator, HRD Department, VNSG University, Surat was the resource person for the fourth session on the fourth day of the course. The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person. He explained This is done through a platform that facilitates hosting of all the courses, taught in classrooms from Class 9 till post-graduation to be accessed by anyone, anywhere at any time. All the courses are interactive, prepared by the best teachers in the country and are available, free of cost to any learner. More than 1,000 specially chosen faculty and teachers from across the country have participated in preparing these courses.

The courses hosted on SWAYAM are in 4 quadrants – (1) video lecture, (2) specially prepared reading material that can be downloaded/printed (3) self-assessment tests through tests and quizzes and (4) an online discussion forum for clearing the doubts. Steps have been taken to enrich the learning experience by using audio-video and multi-media and state of the art pedagogy / technology.

In order to ensure that best quality content is produced and delivered, nine National Coordinators have been appointed. They are:

1. AICTE (All India Council for Technical Education) for self-paced and international courses
2. NPTEL (National Programme on Technology Enhanced Learning) for Engineering
3. UGC (University Grants Commission) for non technical post-graduation education
4. CEC (Consortium for Educational Communication) for under-graduate education
5. NCERT (National Council of Educational Research and Training) for school education
6. NIOS (National Institute of Open Schooling) for school education
7. IGNOU (Indira Gandhi National Open University) for out-of-school students
8. IIMB (Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore) for management studies

Various reference books were recommended by him to the participants on this topic. The participants found the session to be very practical and full of knowledge. He answered all the queries of the participants at the end of the session. The session ended with a formal vote of thanks.

Web Based Teaching and Assessment

Dr.Shaligram Prajapati, Associate Professor, IET, DAVV, Indore was the resource person for the session. The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person. He discussed While a great deal has been written on the advantage and benefits of online teaching, little is known on how assessment is implemented in online classrooms to monitor and inform performance and progress. Interviews and classroom observations were undertaken on line. The findings indicated that, performance-based assessment, writing skills, interactive assessment and learner autonomy were major assessment aspects to inform teaching and enhance learning. If one of the major roles of online instruction is to increase self-directed learning, as part of the pedagogical mechanism, web-based classroom assessment should be designed and practiced to impact learner autonomy. The unique features, especially the synchronous and asynchronous communication, web search, online resources and technical support, allow teaching and learning to be place and time independent. Although educators at all levels have embraced using online technology as a teaching tool, the issue of assessment of student learning in an online course has not been thoroughly addressed.

He discussed There is a growing body of research into MOOCs, and already a great deal available to read about the MOOC experiences of other education-providers. However, there is considerably less by way of specific, practical guidance in how to go about actually designing and developing a course of this type based on hands-on experience. Therefore, this document has been designed as a point of reference for future MOOC developments, allowing you to gain at least some insight into the process, resource and timing involved in producing a MOOC.

National Education Policy 2020

Dr. N S Nikam, Principal, Manikchand Dhariwal Institute of Management and Rural Technology, Shirur, Pune was the resource person in the afternoon session. The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person. He discussed the The NEP proposes sweeping changes including opening up of Indian higher education to foreign universities, dismantling of the UGC and the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), introduction of a four-year multidisciplinary undergraduate programme with multiple exit options, and discontinuation of the M Phil programme. In school education, the policy focuses on overhauling the curriculum, “easier” Board exams, a reduction in the syllabus to retain “core essentials” and thrust on “experiential learning and critical thinking”. In a significant shift from the 1986 policy, which pushed for a 10+2 structure of school education, the new NEP pitches for a “5+3+3+4” design corresponding to the age groups 3-8 years (foundational stage), 8-11 (preparatory), 11-14 (middle), and 14-18 (secondary). This brings early childhood education (also known as pre-school education for children of ages 3 to 5) under the ambit of formal schooling. The mid-day meal programme will be extended to pre-school children. The NEP says students until Class 5 should be taught in their mother tongue or regional language.

In the last session of the day of the course, Dr Payal Thaorey, Asst Prof, PG Department of Law, RTM Nagpur University, Nagpur was the resource person. The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person. She discussed in detail about Writing is a form of creative expression, and therefore writing, even scientific writing, is a form of art. In art, one's creative works are his/her masterpieces. The necessary ingredients for making a good writer are the same for making a good artist. The artist has command over his painting. Similarly, the writer should have complete command over his/her manuscript, even if the contents of the manuscript result from collaborations with other authors. If you understand this analogy with art, then it becomes clear that, as an author, you would never copy someone else's work (plagiarism) and you would not let someone else

(such as your advisor) write the paper for you and still put your name as first author. The session ended with a question-answer round and a formal vote of thanks.

The coordinator of the session introduced the resource person. The topic of his deliberation was “CAS and API for Universities and College Teachers”. He discussed various key concepts and models related to CAS. Many students pursue their career as Lecturer or Researcher as these are the most reputed jobs in India. If you want to get these posts then, you must know that an Assistant Professor or JRF job comes with lots of responsibilities and prestigious roles.

University Grant Commission, a statutory body of MHRD, maintains the standard of Lectureship/research.

As per UGC Rules and Regulations, the authorities look after the functionality of college operations, recruitment of UGC NET qualified professors/researchers and release funds for the same. If you are aiming to appear for UGC NET Exam, it is necessary to have a brief knowledge of UGC Guidelines 2020 for the lecturers or other teaching staff.

UGC Regulations 2020 for Assistant Professor and Research Fellows for the maintenance of standards in higher education and revision of pay scales were discussed by him.

She delivered her speech and encouraged and blessed the participants for a successful and safe future.

In the valedictory address, Prof Renu Jain deliberated upon the scenario of teacher education in the present context with special reference to National Policy on Education, 2020. He addressed the participants and deliberated upon the major recommendations of New Education Policy, 2020 in the context of teacher education. He motivated all the participants to enhance their knowledge and for practical implementation of the concepts and experiences gained during the course. He blessed the participants and expected that all the participants would learn and apply their learning in future. Also she specially congratulated course coordinator Dr S S Hasani and tagged him as a 'Dynamic Coordinator'.

A formal vote of thanks was proposed by Prof Namrata Sharma at the end of the valedictory session with an assurance from the course participants that they will try their level best to implement the learning of this course in their respective institutions and classes once the pandemic period is over and they are back to their institutions.
